Appeal from Warren District Court - Thomas S. Bown, Judge.

Appeal by defendant from conviction on plea of guilty to charge of breaking and entering. Affirmed.

Clark L. Holmes, of Holmes & Kutinus, of Des Moines, for appellant.

Richard C. Turner, Attorney General, and John W. Criswell, Warren County Attorney, for appellee.

Submitted to Allbee, C.J., and Donielson, Snell, Oxberger and Carter, JJ.

PER CURIAM

Defendant, Gary Dwight Olson, appeals from judgment and sentence imposed upon his plea of guilty to a charge of breaking and entering. We affirm.

Defendant's sole complaint on this appeal is that the trial court, in following the mandates of Brainard v. State, 222 N.W.2d 711 (Iowa 1974), only advised defendant as to what his rights would be in the event he stood on his plea of not guilty. The trial court did not specifically advise defendant that such rights would be waived by his guilty plea. Defendant does not assert that he was unaware that his plea was a waiver of these rights, but only that the record is silent with respect to that matter.

We believe the trial court's colloquy, viewed in its entirety, was sufficient to alert defendant to the fact that conviction and sentence would follow his plea of guilty, that he was thus incriminating himself contrary to his constitutional right not to do so, and that as a result the other rights he would have had at trial would be lost. We believe the entry of the plea under such circumstances evidences a sufficiently knowledgable waiver of said rights under Brainard.

We reach this result without relying on the change in the standards for guilty plea appeals set forth in State v. Reaves, 254 N.W.2d 488 (Iowa 1977), although we believe that decision furnishes an additional ground for affirming the trial court.

AFFIRMED.
