PER CURIAM

Defendant appeals from his conviction of second-degree theft as defined in Iowa Code sections 714.1(4) and 714.2(2)(1979). Defendant was accused of exercising control over a stolen U-Haul trailer when he knew or had reasonable cause to believe it was stolen. Many of the items which were in the trailer when it was stolen were recovered from the apartment of defendant's girl friend, Robbin Frost, with whom defendant lived.

On appeal, defendant asserts that the trial court erred in admitting certain testimony and that he was denied effective assistance of counsel because his counsel did not make timely objections to certain testimony. We affirm defendant's conviction.

Defendant waived claim of error to evidence that he was father of Robbin Frost's child. The objection was made after the answer without a motion to strike and an application to have the objection precede the answer or an excuse offered for the delay in objecting to the evidence. State v. Reese, 259 N.W.2d 71 (Iowa 1977).

The trial court did not err in admitting testimony concerning the recovery of the stolen trailer. The testimony was admissible to "complete the story of the crime." State v. Fryer, 243 N.W.2d 1, 5 (Iowa 1976).

The trial court did not err in admitting the testimony of Betty Stapes over defendant's objection that it was not contained in the minutes of testimony. The minutes did contain a "full and fair" statement of the substance of Mrs. Stapes' testimony—her contacts with defendant and Robin Frost—even though the date—given for the contacts was incorrect. State v. Walker, 281 N.W.2d 612, 614 (Iowa 1979).

The record in this direct appeal is inadequate for a determination of defendant's claim of ineffective assistance of counsel.

AFFIRMED.
