Submitted to Oxberger, C.J., and Donielson, Snell, Carter and Johnson, JJ.

PER CURIAM

Defendant, Bruce Nebenger, appeals his conviction of second degree burglary in violation of section 713.3, The Code 1979. We affirm.

At trial, the State sought to introduce several photographs showing the contents of an automobile and the condition of the burglarized store during the testimony of the officer who had taken the photographs. Defendant objected on the grounds (1) no proper chain of possession established and (2) no proper foundation laid. The court overruled the objection and the photographs were received into evidence. Defendant appeals and alleges that ruling in error.[1]

Photographs are admissible when a witness testifies to their correct and accurate representation of relevant facts observed by the witness. McCormick on Evidence, § 214 (2d ed. 1976). Defendant did not specify which of the foundational elements was missing. This general objection is insufficient to preserve the error, if any. See State v. Welsh, 245 N.W.2d 290, 295 (Iowa 1976); State v. Raue, 214 N.W.2d 162, 163 (Iowa 1974). The objecting party must point out the particular deficiency in the foundation basis so that the adversary may have the opportunity to remedy the defect. State v. Welsh, 245 N.W.2d at 296-97.

Finding no appealable issue, we affirm the conviction.

AFFIRMED.

[1] The chain of possession grounds is no longer being urged, and we know of no such requirement for evidence of this nature.
