PER CURIAM

The scope of review in this equity case is de novo. Iowa R. App. P. 4.

We find the value placed on the assets by the trial court to be well within the permissible range of evidence and will not disturb them on appeal. See In re Marriage of Bare, 203 N.W.2d 551, 554 (Iowa 1973); In re Marriage of Griffin, 356 N.W.2d 606, 608 (Iowa App. 1984). Based upon consideration of the factors specified in Iowa Code section 598.21, the trial court's distribution of the parties' property and debts was just and equitable.

We find the alimony and child support awards to be sufficient. The discretionary award of alimony is made after considering those factors listed in Iowa Code section 598.21(3). See In re Marriage of Hayne, 334 N.W.2d 347 (Iowa App. 1983). The child support award was based upon the trial court's consideration of the parties' age, present earning capacity, future prospects, amount of resources of both parties, contributions of each party, duration of the marriage, indebtedness of both, and all relevant factors. See In re Marriage of Byall, 353 N.W.2d 103, 107-09 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984).

We find the trial court's rulings on appellant's posttrial motions well within its discretion, as was Senior Justice Reynoldson's denial of appellee's motion to dismiss the appeal.

The parties shall be responsible for and pay their own attorney fees on appeal.

AFFIRMED.
