PER CURIAM

Plaintiffs, Joseph and Joan Sutherland, appeal the decision of the district court that workers' compensation benefits received by Joseph Sutherland, after he was struck by an underinsured motorist, should be deducted from the policy limits of the Sutherlands' underinsured motorist coverage provided by defendant, Pekin Insurance Company. The Sutherlands contend they should receive the entire $100,000 policy limit since the parties stipulated that the Sutherlands' damages exceeded $188,000.

The precise issue raised by this appeal was recently decided by the Iowa Supreme Court in McClure v. Northland Ins. Co., No. 87-175 (Iowa June 15, 1988). Pursuant to that case, we hereby reverse the trial court and remand for it to enter a judgment in which the workers' compensation benefits are deducted from the total amount of the damages sustained by the Sutherlands, and not from the policy limits of the Sutherlands' underinsured motorist coverage.

REVERSED AND REMANDED.
